If, however, you would like us to monitor the performance of your investments on a discretionary or advisory basis please select a Managed account.

Nominee service

The nominee service is a facility provided by Pershing Securities Limited to look after your investment assets safely and securely. Holdings within the nominee service are registered in the name of Pershing Nominees Limited, but remain your property at all times. Any cash pending investment (including sale proceeds) is held on a sub-account which we call the Capital Account. Dividends and other income is normally credited to another sub-account which we call the Income Account. Every account has both a Capital Account and an Income Account. If you would not like your investment holdings or cash to be held within our nominee service, please let us know.

1. TYPES OF INVESTMENT

We can advise on a range of different investment types including:

1.1 Low risk investments – these can include cash and cash equivalents, gilts and higher rated* corporate debt, and may include certain larger UK quoted company equities.

1.2 Medium risk investments – as above, but can also include medium sized UK quoted company equities, large/medium sized overseas company equities and medium rated* corporate debt.

1.3 High risk investments – as above, but can also include smaller UK quoted company equities (including AIM), smaller sized overseas company equities, lower rated* corporate debt, derivatives, warrants, illiquid, unlisted and alternative investments.

*Please note, credit rating agencies Moody's, Fitch and Standard and Poor's are responsible for applying credit ratings to corporate debt. These ratings reflect those agencies views of the investment quality of those bonds.

2. TYPES OF ACCOUNT

We offer two types of accounts:

2.1 Investment account – this is an account which can be used to buy, sell and hold all types of investments which we offer. Depending on your tax status you may be required to pay tax on any gains and income received on investments held in these accounts.

2.2 Stocks and shares individual savings account (ISA) – this is a tax-efficient savings account where individual residents in the UK can invest up to the yearly ISA allowance in eligible investments. Further information about the tax benefits of this type of account is provided on our website – www.arjent.co.uk. If you select an ISA account please remember to complete the Stocks and Shares ISA Application Pack and read the ISA Supplementary Terms and Conditions.

3. TYPES OF SERVICE

We offer three types of service:

3.1 Advisory dealing – with this type of service we provide advice on specific investments but you retain responsibility for managing your portfolio. This means we are not responsible for providing you with ongoing information and advice about any of the investments we recommend to you, although we may choose to do so. Typically this type of account is appropriate for those clients who have experience and knowledge about the markets they are investing in.

3.2 Execution only – with this type of service we do not provide advice on specific investments and you retain responsibility for managing your portfolio. Our role is simply to execute orders you give us, although we can provide market information on investments before executing your orders. Typically this type of account is appropriate for those clients who have experience and knowledge about the markets they are investing in and wish to retain full responsibility for investment decisions

3.3 Managed – with this type of service we provide you with not only advice about specific investments but also the construction of your portfolio and ongoing information and advice. Alternatively we can manage your portfolio on a discretionary basis where we make the investment decisions without reference to you. We also provide you with valuations on a regular basis and tax pack each year to help you in completing your tax returns.

4. TYPES OF RISK APPETITE

We need to assess your appetite to risk.

For Advisory Dealing clients, only, the following rules apply:

4.1 Low risks – if your appetite to risk is low, we will only advise you on low risk investments (see section 1 for investment types). These are typically very liquid (i.e. easy to buy and sell) and less volatile investments (i.e. in terms of price movements). By selecting low risk, we will assume you are looking for capital preservation with the focus on income and that you are only prepared to accept a low probability that the value of your investment could fall.

4.2 Medium risk – if your appetite to risk is medium we will only advise you on medium and low risk investments (see section 1 for investments types). By selecting medium risk as your appetite to risk, we assume that you are looking for a combination of income and capital growth and are prepared to accept some risk that the value of your investments could fall.

4.3 High risk – if your appetite to risk is high, we will advise you on all types of investments including those that are medium and low risk (see section 1 for investment types). By selecting high risk as your appetite to risk, we assume you are focusing on capital growth and that you accept there is a strong possibility that you could lose some or all of your capital.

For Managed Services clients, we measure risk on an overall portfolio basis. Specifically, we measure how far the returns on that asset/portfolio, over a given period, can be expected to deviate from the mean return of that asset/portfolio over the same period.

The Managed Services client portfolio is compared against industry benchmarks to ensure that the risk of that client portfolio is aligned with the client's stated risk objectives.

5. TYPES OF INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES

We offer three types of investment objectives for you to choose from:

5.1 Capital growth – this is designed for those clients who wish us to focus on investments which are likely to grow in value rather than those which provide income in the form of interest and dividends.

5.2 Income – this is designed for clients seeking income from their investments rather than capital growth.

5.3 Balanced – this is designed for clients looking for a balance between income and growth.

We can hold your investments within a Pershing nominee account or in your own name.
